

*'The Globe Award is the foremost international award
for sustainable innovation.'*

You are helping build a sustainable future; but...
Are you internationally recognized for your work?

This is your invitation to be considered for selection as the
2009 Globe Award Laureate in Sustainable Innovation!

The Globe Award is the world's premier sustainability award. This international honor recognizes accomplishment and encourages continuing advancement in the area of sustainability. The objective of the award is to foster sustainable initiatives, inspiring humanity to take responsibility for the future.

Globe Award Laureates will be recognized at the international Globe Award Ceremony held in Stockholm on the 3rd of June 2009 where H.R.H. Crown Princess Victoria will present the awards. Following the ceremony, Laureates will be honored guests at Globe Forum 2009.

We strongly encourage you to submit your nomination for the Sustainable Innovation Award. The nomination process is simple and quick. You can nominate yourself, your company or your organization.

Isn't it time that the world knew about what you were doing?

Apply Now!

http://globeaward.org/criteria\_sustainability\_innovation\_award

"The Globe Sustainability Research Award is a premier prize that recognizes innovative and outstanding contributions to advance the economic, social and environmental dimensions of sustainable development." - Mohan Munasinghe, 2007 Nobel Peace Prize Laureate, Vice Chairman IPCC Chairman of the committee for the Sustainability Research Award

"Sustainable development is challenging, but, absolutely critical to the future of our world. The Globe Award helps to raise awareness of the importance of sustainable development and inspire others to take up the challenge. We support the Globe Forum's efforts to identify and recognize the world's leading sustainable innovations through the Globe Award and we strongly encourage innovators to apply."- Gus Weber, Microsoft Corporation

"When Electrolux was awarded the Globe Award it enhanced our possibility to continue arguing for the role energy-lean white goods have in tackling climate change. Electrolux consumers today tell us they want climate smart household appliances. The Globe award encourages us to continue developing sustainable refrigerators and washing machines." - Hans Stråberg, Electrolux Globe Award winner 2008

The Globe Award is sponsored by the Globe Forum - to learn more about Globe Forum, go to www.gfbn.com. The Globe Award globeaward.org is presented in four categories; Sustainability Innovation Award, Sustainable City Award, Sustainability Research Award and Sustainability Reporting Award. All cities, corporations, organizations, individuals and academics interested in being nominated can apply for the award through the Globe Award website.

The last day for applications is April 26, 2009.